The Chemical Company Announces Product Expansion with INVISTA's Adi-pure® Adipic Acid

The Chemical Company (TCC), a global chemical distributor and INVISTA S.à r.l., one of the world's largest integrated producers of chemical intermediates, polymers and fibers, have entered into an agreement that will enhance TCC's sales and marketing efforts for Packaged/Merchant Adi-pure® adipic acid.

Jamestown, RI: The Chemical Company and INVISTA have entered a multi-year agreement for packaging and resale of Adi-pure® adipic acid. The Chemical Company will resell Adi-pure® adipic acid to a majority of packaged customers. TCC packages will include 25 kg and 50 lb. small bags, as well as 500 kg and 1,000 kg sacks of both Type B and Type D Anti-Static.

"The Chemical Company and INVISTA have had a long and mutually beneficial relationship for the resale of Adi-pure® adipic acid. TCC has the assets, manpower, and sales and marketing expertise to better serve certain segments of the package Adi-pure® adipic acid marketplace," stated Kevin Kenaley, global product manager for INVISTA's Adi-pure® adipic acid. "INVISTA will focus on the production of Adi-pure® adipic acid and sales to a select group of customers, including sales in railcars, bulk trucks and big bags."

The Chemical Company offers customers and potential new clients a reputation built on integrity and outstanding customer service to strengthen and sustain their packaged Adi-pure® adipic acid supply.
